St. Luke Society

St. Luke's Society constitutes the entire body of the Theological School, with the officers of the Society also functioning as the student officers of the school. The Society sponsors lectures and the extra-curricular activities and social activities of the student body.

The officers are: Van Davis, President; Dewey Gable, Jr., Vice - President; and Peyton Splane, Secretary-treasurer. Davis

Organizations

The Order of Gownsmen

Officers are: Cain, Horn, McKay,

The order of Gownsmen is the student governing body, who by its constitution, endeavors to preserve the ideals of the University of the South. The Order was founded in 1873 by the students of the University at the instigation of Chaplain William Porcher DuBose.

Graduate students, Theological students, and those students in the College of Arts and Sciences who have attained Junior or Senior rating, are eligible for membership upon recognition and recommendation of the Faculty. Membership in honorary societies and fraternities is chosen from the members of this Order.

The Executive Committee of the Order of Gownsmen consists of the three elected officers of the Order of Gownsmen and ten Gownsmen who are elected, one from each fraternity and one from the Independent group. In addition to executive business of the Order, the Committee is responsible for the publication and distribution of the Student Handbook, published each year.

Honor Council

The Honor Council and the Honor Code have made it possible for the students of the University to live in a community based on high standards of honorable conduct. All infractions of the Honor Code are tried by this Council, and appropriate disciplinary action accordingly taken.

The Council consists of two seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, one freshman, and one Theological student, elected by the student body at the beginning of each year.

The committee exercises general supervision over all organized student activities and has power to make necessary allocations from the activity fund to publications, athletics, dramatics, musical productions, and other similar activities. Its members are elected from the Order of Gownsmen

Cain, Pardue, Pilcher, McKay, Van Cleve, Eyler.

These men are elected each year by the graduating and returning proctors with the approval of the Administrative heads. To them is intrusted the maintenance of discipline and gentlemanly and orderly conduct in the dormitories, the dining halls, the chapel, and on the campus in general. Election to this position is a highly respected honor.

The College Publications Board consists of three faculty members appointed by the Vice-Chancellor and two students elected by the Order of Gownsmen. Editors of the paper, yearbook, and magazine are non-voting members of the committee. It serves in an advisory capacity, passing on the mominations for student publications elections, advising the editors of the several publications, and allocating funds to these publications.

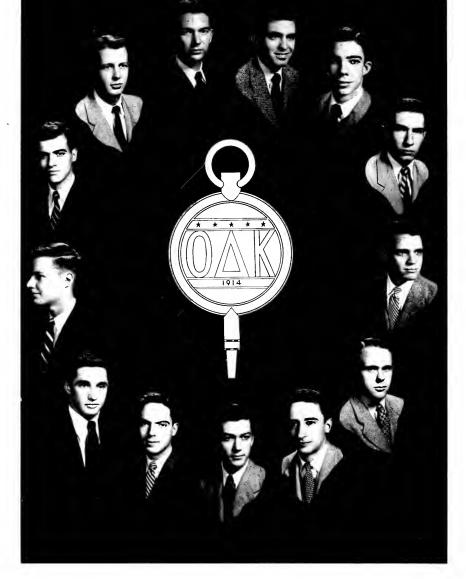

Publications Board

Blue Key

Blue Key, national honorary leadership and service fraternity, recognizes those students on the campus who have contributed to the service and activities of the school, and who show definite ability in furthering the progress and best interests of the University.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Sewanee's chapter, the Alpha Alpha Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa, elects men from the Order of Gownsmen who have demonstrated leadership on the campus. Only three percent of the student body may be elected to this organization. The Sewanee chapter of this national honorary leadership fraternity was installed in 1929.

Members are: Buck Cain, Andy Duncan, Bob Fowler, Charlie Horn, Ivey Jackson, Mark Johnson, Stan Lachman, Jim Ed Mulkin, Brown Patterson, Winn Price, Dick Smith, Jerry Stallings, Howell

Phi Beta Kappa

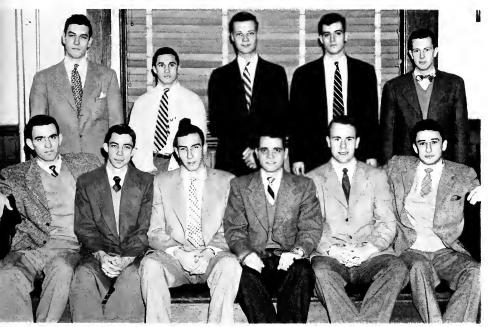

Front row: R. A. Duncan, J. H. Brattor, D. C. McBride, D. H. Van Lenten, J. E. Mulkin, W. H. Langhorne, L. C. West, Back row: J. B. Kilbride, G. W. Hamilton, B. Wyatt-Brown, E. S. Shirley, W. B. Patterson, M. T. Johnson, W. P. Zion.

Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary society, promotes scholarship among the students of the University. The Sewanee chapter was founded in 1926, and is known as Tennessee Beta.

Election to this fraternity is the highest honor granted to students in the field of scholastic achievement. Membership requires the maintenance of an average of 92 for the first five semesters of the student's college career, or an average of 90 for seven semesters. Those eligible are then passed upon by the present members of the fraternity.

A campus nominating committee annually recommends a number of outstanding students for inclusion in the national publication, "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. They are chosen for leadership, scholarship, and service to the school.

Those outstanding in the fields of scholarship, extra-curricular activity, publications, athletics, and other phases of campus life are chosen for this honor, thereby giving an accurate cross-section of those students active in participation in all campus functions.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The Pan-Hellenic Council is the governing board of the social fraternity functions at Sewanee. It is composed of two elected representatives from each fraternity, the president and one other member. Its purpose is to coordinate and requlate the activities of the different fraternities on the campus. The Council sets rushing and pledging rules and promotes interfraternity friendship and interest. The presidency of the Council rotates from fraternity to fraternity each year.

The German Club is composed of two members from each fraternity and two men from the Independent group. It sponsors all University dances, engaging the orchestras, managing the equipment, and taking care of the finances and decorations.

The Debate Council is the governing board of intercollegiate and intramural public speaking at Sewanee. Its membership consists of ten undergraduate students and has as its advisor, the Professor of Public Speaking.

The Debate Council grew out of Pi Omega and Sigma Epsilon debate societies, both founded prior to 1873. Members are elected each spring in recognition of outstanding work in forensic competition.

The Discipline Committee of the Order of Gownsmen is responsible for the training and discipline of Freshmen, especially regarding failures to observe Sewanee customs and traditions. It also sees to it that the traditions and rules of the University are followed by all students.

Discipline Committee

Pi Gamma Mu

Pi Gamma Mu is a national honorary social science fraternity whose purpose is threefold: 1) to improve scholarship in the social sciences; 2) to inspire social service to humanity by an intelligent approach to the solution of social problems; 3) to engender a better mutual understanding among the interrelated nations of the world.

The group sponsors lectures and open debates and discussions upon subjects of current interest. Membership is limited to three per cent of the student body.

Sopherim is the mother chapter of Sigma Upsilon, a national literary collegiate fraternity. As the literary society of the University, the group seeks to promote interest in literary matters by securing lecturers for the student body, and by sponsoring the "Mountain Goat," the campus magazine of humor and literary material.

Members are elected to the society twice a year on the basis of original creation or critical dissertation.

The Purple Masque is the official dramatics society of Sewanee. It presents from three to five productions each year. Membership is achieved through participation in these productions either in an acting or backstage capacity. Membership is open to all interested and talented students.

Alpha Psi Omega is the honorary dramatic society of the University. The society is dedicated to the fostering of better dramatics through guidance of the dramatic program by the light of experience. Membership is elective on the basis of work done in Purple Masque. By this method, the members of the group have a backlog of experience which make them valuable assets to the Sewanee acting program.

Every year, the society presents an Alpha Psi Omega program featuring some play of more than usual interest, using a cast chosen exclusively from its membership. The three oneact plays presented each year are directed by members of the society.

The Highlanders group was formed for the purpose of increasing and disseminating an appreciation of Scottish customs, traditions, and institutions among the student body. Numerous informal meetings of the clan tend to further this purpose.

The Sewanee Music Club, which has a membership limited to thirty students, has as its purpose the furthering of musical appreciation among the students of Sewanee.

During the last year, the Club sponsored the first Sewanee concert series, as well as the production of the popular Choir album.

1951 FOOTBALL COACHING STAFF

|Football, |1952

A season of some note and one of the most successful since football returned to the mountain after the war was that played by the Tigers in 1951. Though the manpower losses last year either by graduation or by the war scare were almost enough to wreck a team, a host of new men and the return of several mainstays who kept that spark alive made all those interested in Sewanee athletics delighted and proud.

Under Coach Bill White's inspiring leadership the team rolled to five decisive victories, suffering only three defeats at the hands of its opponents.

The Sewanee gridders took Hampden-Sidney and Bethel College in home territory before dropping a heartbreaker to Millsaps College in Jackson, Mississippi, one played without the help of four starters. After coming back to swamp Mississippi College at Homecoming, the Tigers again tasted defeat at the hands of a stronger Wabash eleven. The season's finale proved the third fatality for the courageous Sewaneemen, but not before Centre and Howard College had felt the Tiger's fangs.

The season saw the culmination of one of the finest careers in several years in that of diminutive Jim Ed Mulkin, who, by his inspiring play and his excellent leadership of this aggregation, gained prominence for the team and earned for himself a place on Paul Williamson's mythical Little All-American eleven.

The success of this team was due to the determination and ability of both its veterans and its freshmen, who fitted quite prominently into the picture. Freshman Bobby Parkes stood out among the newcomers and gave considerable support to experienced backfield mates David Jones, Caywood Gunby, and Jim Seidule. Predominant among the linemen were Bill Austin, Mickey Poe, Jim Whitaker, Jim Elam, Ensign Conklin, Cliff Anderson, and Charlie Lindsay. In the end department Jim Rox, Tommy Robertson, and Bill Porter with his magic toe, turned in commendable performances in every game. The tutorship of Coach "Red" Bridgers gave polish to this exceptional forward wall.

The "B" team under Bob Snell's guidance added its support to the varsity effort and did well in preparing itself to fill the shoes of those who have played their last season for Sewanee.

Poe, Whitaker, Mulkin, Anderson, Tucker, and Shirley will leave the future outcome of the team in the hands of a now experienced squad, and the hope for continued success next year seems insured.

Sewanee 20 Hampden-Sydney 7

In their season opener, the charges of Coach Bill White rambled over a hapless Hampden-Sydney eleven by a 20-7 count.

Showing a host of bright young prospects, the Tigers crowded all of their scoring into the first period, and then coasted on to victory.

With the contest not three minutes old, halfback Jim Seidule took a reverse from Captain Jim Ed Mulkin, and dashed eighteen yards into the end zone. End Bill Porter converted to make it 7-0 Sewanee.

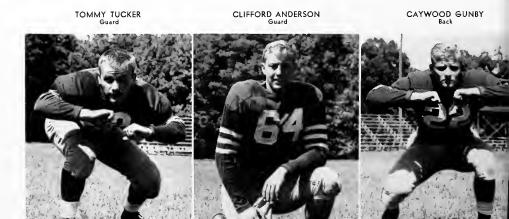

Only minutes later, Right End Tommy Robertson blocked a Hampden-Sydney punt, and Left End Jim Rox scooped it up on the Virginian's 25-yard line and raced all the way for the second Tiger score. Porter's attempted conversion was wide, and the Mountainmen led 13-0.

With four minutes remaining in the first quarter, the alert Tiger forward wall recovered a Hampden-Sydney fumble on the opponents 18-yard line. Three plays later, diminutive Captain Mulkin plunged over from the one for the final Sewanee score. Porter converted, extending the score to 20-0.

Hampden-Sydney made their lone tally in the third period on a three-yard dash by Co-Captain Holland. Blair added the extra point to complete the afternoon's scoring, and make the final score read Sewanee 20, Hampden-Sydney 7.

Sewanee 52 Bethel 13

Revealing a wide-open offense under Winchester lights, the Tigers gave 2,500 spectators something to behold as they crushed Bethel, 52-13 beneath an over-powering running and passing attack. Striking viciously from their high-geared single wing attack, the Tigers tallied twice in the first and second periods, once in the third, and three times in the final stanza. A spirited crowd down from the Mountain saw Coach White take the wraps off a terrific Mulkin-to-Porter passing combo, and also allow Bobby Parkes, sensational freshman tailback, to make his first real debut.

Capitalizing on a Wildcat fumble, the Tigers roared ahead in the opening minutes of the game as Mulkin crashed off tackle for the last three yards. Porter's conversion made it 7-0, but Sewanee was not to be stopped here. With Mulkin running to his left and passing 30 yards to left end Porter, the Tigers led 14-0 after Porter raced into the end zone to complete the electrifying 45-yard touchdown play. Coming back in the second period, Mulkin passed 44 yards to Porter and then bucked over for the third tally. By virtue of a freak exhibition of fumbling on the part of the Sewanee backs, Hal Self, freshman tackle from Russellville, Alabama, came up with the ball and lumbered into the end zone to give Sewanee a commanding 27-0 lead at halftime.

Affter the Tigers had tallied their fifth touchdown in the third quarter on a pass from Sorrell to Porter, the bewildered Bethel Wildcats finally mustered an offensive punch. Starting a sustained drive at their own 45-yard line, the 'Cats moved to paydirt, with J. Burrow going the last three yards. Burrow provided the crowd with the longest run of the night as he returned a punt 76 yards a few minutes later to culminate the Wildcats offensive display.

Sewanee unleased a last quarter scoring spree with the first one coming on a ten yard aerial from Mulkin to Barker, the second score on a six-yard dash by Sorrell, and the final tally by virtue of a pass interception which featured Bobby Jackson racing 35 yards to pay dirt.

The brilliant passing and running of Captain Mulkin did not overshadow the equally hard-running wares off Bobby Parkes, 160-pound frosh tailback. His punting and hard drive through the line were certainly indicative of a real triple-threat—something that Sewanee has needed for several years.

The Millsaps Majors, playing before a partisan crowd in Jackson, Mississippi, dumped the Purple Tigers from the unbeaten ranks by a 7-6 margin.

Sewanee drew first blood midway in the first stanza, when Captain Mulkin tossed a 20-yard aerial to End Jim Rox on the Majors' five, and the big end drove the remaining five for the score. End Bill Porter's all-important conversion was blocked, and Sewanee took an early 6-0 lead.

The Mountainmen were forced to stop two Millsaps drives in the second period, both with-Sewanee 6 Millsaps 7 in their own 20-yard line. One of the home team thrusts came to a halt on the Tiger one.

Early in the third quarter however, Quarter-back Glen Kain sneaked through the middle of the Tiger line, broke for the sidelines, and raced 22 yards for the Millsaps score standing up. Lewis successfully came through with the deciding margin, as he split the uprights to give the Mississippians a 7-6 lead which they never relinquished.

The Millsaps score came as a direct result of a bad kick by Sewanee, going out on their own 22-yard line; from whence Kain took over.

Hardee Field was the scene of a 29-0 Homecoming victory over Mississippi College by the Sewanee Tigers, and a fitting climax to a gala weekend on the Mountain. Striking twice from a deadly attack, Sewanee held a commanding 13-0 lead at halftime, and then insured the victory as Captain Mulkin passed for his third touchdown to George Barker early in the third period. In one of his most outstanding performances, Mulkin displayed a passing accuracy that accounted for three of the four Tiger scores, and ran equally as well from his tailback slot. Defensive standouts in the forward wall of the Tigers were numerous, but especially the terminal play of Jim Rox and Dave Palmer was effective in stalling the double wing antics of the Choctaws.

A spirited, shirt-sleeved crowd watched the Tigers move ahead in the first quarter 7-0 when George Barker, alert Tiger blocking back, pounced on a fumble at the Choc 23-yard line. A few plays later Mulkin hit big Jim Rox in the end zone with a rifle-shot pass, and Porter converted. Mulkin kept the Tiger machine rolling in the second stanza when he sparked a scoring drive that culminated when Buddy Wilson, frosh fullback, rammed over the chalkline from three yards out. With the extra-point going high and wide, the Tigers led 13-0 as the halftime activities got underway.

Halftime brought the annual freshman cake race, and while the eager thinclads filed out on their two and a half mile jaunt, Miss Peggy Neill, representing Phi Delta Theta, was presented with the Homecoming Queen title. Mallory Morris breezed through the cake race in a remarkable time of 13'53" to bring home the first place honors for the Phi Gams. Also among the halftime festivities was the announcement of the winners in the homecoming decorations, with the Phis, Phi Gams, and ATO's finishing in the first three places respectively.

In the second half Mulkin twisted and circled in the Tiger backfield until he connected with Barker in the Choc end zone who made a sensational catch of the looping aerial to put Sewanee ahead, 19-0. In the closing minutes of the game Earl Roberts jump-passed to Jim Rox for the fourth tally and after Porter jammed his third conversion through the uprights, the Tigers led 27-0. A driving Sewanee forward wall led by Whitaker and Austin accounted for the final tally as he dumped a Choc halfback behind the goal line for a safety, thus putting the finishing touches on a well-spun 29-0 Homecoming victory.

Sewanee 29 Miss. College 0

Sewanee 7 Wabash 35

Playing away from home in sub-freezing weather and a driving snow storm, the Purple Tigers were crushed 35-7 by a spirited Wabash eleven.

Midway in the first quarter Wabash drove deep into Sewanee territory, and then scored on a 26-yard pass. The Bengals came back in the second period, to score through the airways also, as Mulkin tossed to Barker for the score from the home team's five yard line. Porter booted the tying point between the uprights, and the score remained 7-7 at halftime.

With three minutes of the third quarter gone, a fleet Wabash halfback scampered 42 yards to put the Little Giants into the lead which they never surrendered. The larger Indiana team continued to batter the Mountainmen, climaxing the afternoon with a 40-yard scoring jaunt by the quarterback on a neat optional play which gave the Tigers trouble all afternoon.

The Yankee club gained 397 yards over-all, to the Bengals' 179. Mulkin was again outstanding, but it was just too much Wabash for the Southerners.

It was a determined Tiger eleven that took the field against unbeaten Centre, and the "Praying Colonels," second in the nation in total defense until that game, never had a chance. Sewanee gained 231 yards, a respectable margin over the 68 gained by Centre. From the opening kickoff, Sewanee's forward wall held the Little All-American studded Centre team in their own territory, while the Tiger backfield, led by David Jones and Bobby Parkes, ran up and down the field, gaining the high offensive mark of 231 yards.

The first three quarters saw Sewanee ramming deep into Colonel territory time and again, only to be stopped just short of the goal.

It was not until the last quarter that the magic toe of Bill Porter cinched the game for Sewanee. Porter, attempting the first Sewanee field goal since 1939, split the uprights from twenty yards out, and that was the ball game.

The game was highlighted by the vicious line play. Playing this one for Coach "Red" and "Little Red," they turned in their best performance of the year. Tackles Whitaker, and Elam, Guards Austin and Conklin, and Centers Poe and Lindsay dealt misery to Centre backs all afternoon.

Freshman Back Bobby Parkes, distinguishing himself in the tailback slot, and Fullback David Jones tore up the Colonel line for 109 yards between them.

Despite the score, the Centre game was probably the best "win" of the year.

The Purple Tigers closed their home season with an impressive 41-0 victory over an outplayed, outclassed Howard College eleven as 500 chilled fans braved the snow flurries to watch the Saturday afternoon affair. Bobby Parkes and David Jones sparked the Tiger offense, and the Sewanee line played havoc with the Howard ball-carriers. The defensive team was especially alert, recovering all three of the Howard fumbles and intercepting three passes.

Little Jim Ed Mulkin, Sewanee's star tailback and captain, opened the scoring parade with an eight-yard touchdown dash off his own right tackle after the Tiger machine had rolled eighty yards to set up the play. Left end Bill Porter's attempted conversion was low and wide the first time, but due to an offsides penalty enforced against the Bulldogs he split the uprights on his second chance. Later in the same period Bobby Parkes drove through the left guard of the Bulldog line, slid into the secondary, and then shot 40 yards to score. Porter's successful conversion made it 14-0 as the quarter ended. David Jones came back with a one-yard crash off tackle for a tally, and big Dave Palmer intercepted a Howard pass to go 40 yards for the fourth Sewanee touchdown. Porter's attempts for the extra-point were both good, and the Tigers led 28-0 at halftime.

Billy Millar resumed the scoring spree in the third period by intercepting a Bulldog pass and coasting 20 yards into the end zone. After Porter booted his fifth straight conversion to put the Tigers ahead 35-0, Parkes completed a twenty-three yard scoring pass to Gunby. Mulkin's unsuccessful attempt for the extra point made the score read 41-0, and this ended the touchdown parade for the day.

Sewanee 41 Howard 0

Sewanee 13 Washington 31

The Purple Tigers ended the 1951 season on a bitter note, as they went down to defeat at the hands of a massive Washington U. Bear team by a decisive 31-13 score.

Led by Ex-Princeton Halfback Jim Burst, the Bruins scored in every period in handing Sewanee its third and final loss.

The Tigers, trailing 0-6 going into the second quarter, tied the score on an II-yard pass from Captain Mulkin to Wilson. However the Bears came back to score again and take a 12-6 lead at half-time which they never relinquished.

The other Bengal scoring thrust came in the final stanza, as Mulkin plunged over from the three to climax a 62-yard march. It was too late then for the smaller Sewanee eleven to get back in the game however, as the Washington club kept up its relentless attack on the Tiger goal.

Little All-American Jim Ed Mulkin, playing his last game for Sewanee, brought to a close the career of one of the finest athletes ever turned out on the Mountain. A fighting spirit, and dogged determination were the "tiny tailback's" by-words.

The 1951-52 basketball season was one of ups and downs for the Purple cagers. It was marked by flare-ups of outstanding play which were followed by slumps which the Tigers could not avoid. However, when the record was averaged, it was found that, thanks to a late season spurt of wins, this had been one of the best seasons the Tigers had had since Coach Lon Varnell took over the direction of the team four years ago. It was a disastrous middle of the season that ruined an outstanding record. The final count showed a won 10-Lost 12 record for Sewanee.

In the individuals department Buck Cain, in his third year as the team captain, was big man. He was consistently high point man and defensive standout. Filling the spot vacated at guard by last year's cocaptain Bob Lockard, who was unable to play out his last season, was sophomore "Skeeter" Hale, an Auburn transfer. Skeeter displayed some of the most high-spirited basketball seen at Sewanee in some time. At forward Glen Schafer, Louis Knipp, and Bill Crawford alternated, All three were scoring threats at all times. At center Jim Rox, the team's biggest man, often saved the day for the Purples, utilizing his height and ability to the maximum both on offense and defense.

Gene Eyler was number one relief man for Coach Varnell, and the hustling speedster saw plenty of action for the Tiger team.

The Tigers started off their season as though they were planning to live up to pre-season information when they trounced a helpiess Howard College five 77-56. Buck Cain was the offensive star, and Hale gave fans a hint of things to come with his speed and ball handling. The next invaders of the Purples home floor were the Buildogs of Middle Tennessee State. The Murfreesboroeans went home with a 54-51 victory and with them went much of the optimism about Sewanee's future for this year.

With two games behind them, the Tigers embarked on a disastrous road trip into Southeastern Conference territory. When the Tiger crawled back to the Mountain, he had most of his stripes polished off and his tail was dragging. Alabama's Crimson Tide had swept over him down in Tuscaloosa with a tremendous 83-42 score. Mississippi State was the next Tiger tamer with an equally resounding 71-52 win. The big difference in both games had been height. The opposition dwarfed the Sewanee team and completely dominated the backboards.

By the next week the Tiger had licked his wounds and had lifted his tail out of the dust. His spirit had reached a new high as time for the 'Vanderbilt game drew near. A spirited, packed crowd knew that Vandy was one of the best teams in the Conference and despite their ardent yells expected little more than a rout. They could hardly believe their eyes as they saw the Mountain boys, trailing by 15 points at halftime, pull up almost even with the Commodores. The experienced and capable reserves, however, proved too much and Sewanee dropped behind in the closing minutes and went down, 86-64.

Just before the Christmas holidays, the Tigers lost to Lambuth and, comparing this game to the Vandy game, people began to wonder what kind of team was occupying Ormand Simpkins Gymnasium.

Over the holidays the Tiger cagers ambled down to Florida for a little sunshine and a go at Stetson and Florida State Universities. In the Stetson game the Sewanee five was soundly trounced 75-52. A revised edition of the squad came back against FSU and came on the winning end of a 62-52 score.

Returning from the holidays the Tigers were able to take a couple from Southwestern on Jan. 4th and 5th. In the first game the Purple five managed to squeeze by with a small 66-59 score. The next night the Bengals showed a decided improvement in a 65-46 win.

After a successful home stand Sewanee took a tour through middle Tennessee to play Lambuth and Bethel, losing to both as they hit a downhill slide in their season. Bethel won 71-55, and Lambuth 76-56. In the Lambuth game Glen Schafer was the standout, holding Bob Scott, who had 25 points in a previous encounter, down to a mere 5 points. Against Bethel all five of the regulars and one sub-were forced to leave the floor via the foul route. With a quarter to go, Sewanee reserves just couldn't keep pace and fell behind.

Birmingham Southern was the visitor when Sewanee made their next home appearance. Knipp, Rox, and Cain sparled the Purples to an easy 54-44 win over the Magic City quintet. In a return match with Middle Tennessee, the next opponent, it was much the same as the first, with the Bulldoos of Murfreesboro again on top.

With exams behind them the Tigers left for Birmingham to pay a couple of earlier opponents a return visit. The first night it was Birmingham Southern who hosted the Bengals and Sewanee again had a bad night, losing 64-

59. The next night, however, the Tigers started to climb and took Howard College in a game which Coach Varnell considered one of the best games that he had ever seen a Sewanee team play. Since Sewanee's previous win over Howard, that team had become one of the outstanding small college teams in the South. Louis Knipp was high point man against Southern, playing possibly his best game of the year, and Schafer was the standout in the Howard win.

Back home the next week, the Tiger began his last uphill climb which was to carry him through the remainder of the season. Missisppi College was the first victim of the reactivated Mountain five, falling to a tune of 72-57. Buck Cain approached the 27 point record for one game as he took 23 points for the evening's work.

Next to fall to the Tigers was Bethel College, who lost out in the closest game of the year 70-66. An over-time period decided the question after Cain and Schafer had sparked a late rally which tied the score.

Sewanee then took to the road for a trip into Kentucky. They came home with a I-I record, winning from Transylvania and losing to Centre. Both scores were one point differences, and the Tigers were not up to par in either of the games.

The Sewanee cagers then prepared to wind up the season at home. Powerful Mississippi State was the first of two remaining teams to be played. Trailing 18 points at the half the Purples played the Maroons even in the third frame and then completely outplayed them in the last quarter to come within 6 points of tying the SEC team. The final score was 73-67. Glen Schafer was high point man.

In the last contest of the season Sewanee, still hot from the Maroon game, took Millsaps College 69-61. It was Bill Crawford's big night as he came in in the second quarter and proceeded to score a terrific 23 points.

Lettermen for the year were Louis Knipp, Bill Crawford, George Wagner, Glen Schafer, Frank Fesmire, Bill Porter, Jim Rox, Captain Buck Cain, Skeeter Hale, Gene Eyler, and Manager Horace Colman.

European Tour

The banners, plaques, and loving cups that the Sewanee cagers brought back from Europe stand as a permanent record of a trip that brought honor and prestige to the university team that represented the United States. The trip was made possible by the Amateur Basketball Federation of Europe when it saw fit to arrange a tour, which included ten countries in Europe and North Africa, for a university team in the United States. The traveling party included eight basketball players; Sewanee's Director of Athletics, Gordon M. Clark; and Coach Lon Varnell. The tour called for a schedule of 57 games of which the team won 53 and lost 4, winning the last 34 games without a single defeat.

The trip began on May 26th when the squad flew from Berry Field in Nashville to New York City. May 27th, being Sunday, was spent in New York with the Sewanee alumni pleying host to the team. In the evening the team flew from Idlewilde Airport by way of Goose Bay, Labrador, to Paris, France, where the tour opened on May 28th. The team played three games in Paris and then moved up through France to Belgium, playing in Brussels, then moving through Belgium into the Belgium, playing in Brussels, then moving through Belgium into Holland where games were played with Amsterdam and Rotterdam. After another short stint in France the group traveled to Geneva, Switzeland for a strengting for the strength of the strength

After another short stint in France the group traveled to Geneva, Switzerland, for an international tournament, which they won, In Nimes, France, the next week after having competed in Italy, the team had one of its most interesting experiences in playing in the Roman Arena which was built in 36 B.C. It was on this same ground that Christians were fed to the Iions. Next to fall were the champions of Spain, whom the team met in Barcelona, After a stay in Madrid, the capers went to Lisbon, Portugal, for a game which was played in the buil ring before 7,000 fans, A frija across the Mediterranean followed, where the team had engagements in North Africa. There games were played in Casablanca, Morocco; and in Algiers and Oran, Algeria. The trip was concluded three days later on July 25th in Nice, France.

The 1951 track season saw a winning team that broke and set three all-time Sewanee records. The 33-man squad won three dual meets and lost two. The victories came in contests with Howard College of Birmingham, Emory University of Atlanta, and Mississippi College in Clinton. The losses were at the hands of Vanderbilt and the University of Kentucky.

In addition to the dual meets, the team competed in four larger meets. The Sewanee thinly-clads took third place in the T.I.A.C. meet which was held at Sewanee in May. In the Southern Conference Indoor Meet at Chapel Hill, N.C., the Florida Relays at Gainesville, and the Carolina Relays at Chapel Hill, Critchlow and Burch placed high in their events to represent the Sewanee team.

During the season, David Wendel set a new Sewanee record in the 220-yd. dash, and David Critchlow set records in both the 120-yd. high hurdles and the high jump.

Wynne Ragland, as Captain, and Tommy Lamb, as Alternate Captain, led this aggregation under the able direction of Coach J. D. Bridgers.

For this year's team Coach C. E. Shotwell has taken over the coaching responsibilities. To lead the squad are Co-Captains Bill Austin and Tommy Robertson, both competent leaders and seasoned performers.

Eight lettermen including Clicquennoi, Hill, Farmer, Jenkins, Foster, and Puckette, in addition to the captains, will give the team a substantial backbone for this season.

This year's tracksters will participate in five meets and the T.I.A.C. tournament, and they have the potentiality of equalling or bettering last session's record.

Cross Country

The 1951 cross country season was not as successful as the several preceding ones, but the meets, run at the halves of the home football games, afforded much enjoyment to the spectators as well as to the participants.

severa preceding ones, of me meets, find a me states of the home football games, afforded much enjoyment to the spectators as well as the processor of eight men, was captained and coached by Bill Pitcher, the only senior on the team. Much of the credit for the successful operation of the team goes to still who, in addition to being the most consistent performer, taught his teammates the fundamentals of the sport.

J. D. Bridgers, the track and cross country coach, handled the squad in an official capacity, but due to his work with the football line, he was unable to actively coach the runners and turned that job over to the capable Pitcher.

The harriers took part in six meets, they opened the season with a sound victory over Union University on October 13th at Sewanee. In the next three successive meets they lost one to Maryville, at Maryville, lennessee, and two to William Jennings Bryan, one at Sewanee and the other at Dayton, Tennesse.

On November 17th at Sewanee, a friangle meet was held between Sewanee, Maryville, and the University of Lousville. Although losing to Maryville, entucky, at Thanksgving, In competition with the leading cross country monners of the middle west, the control of the properties of the middle west, and addition to Pitcher. Holt Hogan, Elliott Puckette, and Robie Moise looked very respectable all season, as did Allen Farmer, who did well until an injury hampered his abilities. With most of these men returning, the prospects for a come-back next year are favorable and the experience of this group will greatly improve our future chances.

Golf

The most successful season since pre-war days was enjoyed by the 1981 Sewanee golf team under the able direction of Mr. C. E. Cheston, the coach and manager. A team of Gene Eyler, a freshman, Bob Briggs, Bayard Tynes, and Bill Bomar, all seniors, scored II wins against only four losses. In addition to regular matches, they won the T.I.A.C. tournament which was played on the Sewanee course, Eyler, Briggs, and Types finished in that order in the first three positions. In the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament at Athens, Georgia, in May, Eyler placed second in the Southeastern Conference and sixth in a field of eighty competing in the entire match.

Among the teams that fell to the Sewance inksters were Tennessee, Birmingham, Southern, Auburn, Georgia, Chattanooga, Vanderbilt, Centre, and Wabash. They lost only in return matches with Vanderbilt and Georgia.

Bill Beresford and Bob Strother also lettered and competed in several contests.

With only Eyler returning to bolster the team, the hopes for 1952 are still dubious, but if several promising newcomers live up to expectations, a repeated success may be effected.

Tennis

Sewanee's racquet squad, under the able leadership of Dr. Bruton, had one of its most successful seasons on record last year. The netmen won ten out of thirteen matches, losing only to SEC champ Tennessee and to Vanderbilt. On a Southern trip, the Tigers won over such SEC teams as Mississippi, Mississippi State, and Alabama. Other teams who fell to the netters were Georgia, Emory, Birmingham-Southern, Centre, Southwestern, and TPI.

The Tigers completely monopolized the TIAC Tournament. winning it for the ninth time in thirteen tries. The netters not only won the singles, doubles, and team championships, but took all six of the medals offered for placing the four singles semi-finalists and the two doubles finalists. Gordon Warden defeated John Jay Hooker in the singles, and the team of Ivey Jackson and Webb White trounced Warden and Hooker for the doubles crown.

Lettermen named for the season were: Gorden Warden, John Jay Hooker, Ivey Jackson, Webb White, Jack Gibson, Charlie Keyser, and Andy Duncan (Mgr.).

Intramural Basketball

An impressive perfect season of ten wins and no losses gave the undisputed basketball championship to the Alpha Tau Omega team. Their smooth play was exceptional for the intramural league and they had very little trouble with any opponent. In second place were the SAE's with eight victories against two defeats. A post season playoff gave third place to Phi Delta Theta and fourth to the Independents.

Selections on the All-Star team included White (ATO), Captain and center; Corbin (PDT) and Robertson (Independent), forwards; Parkes (ATO) and Wiehrs (SAE), guards. On the second team were Jones (ATO), Davis (Theolog), Barrett (KS), Gunby (ATO), and Oxarart (DTD).

Intramural Volleyball

The volleyball title went this year to the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity team. The Phi Gams enjoyed an unmarred season record of ten straight victories in this, the year's second major intramural sport. Despite this fact, however, the league was relatively closely matched.

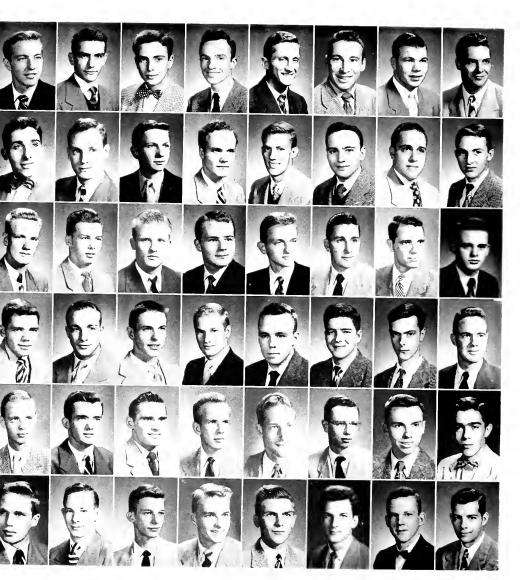

SAE placed second with a lone defeat against nine wins. Third came the Theologs with an 8-2 record; and Phi Delta Theta took fourth. Their total was seven wins, three losses.

Air Force

Sewanee now boasts a full-fledged Air Force ROTC Unit and along with it, the first band since the late 1800's. The Unit band is under the direction of honorary cadet Captain Claude Guthrie.

Freshman and sophomore cadets carry two hours of classwork each week, plus their drill period, and junior students take four hours of classwork.

In their regular classes, freshmen study political geography, designed to give them an insight into the foreign policies, military capabilities, resources and strategic importance of the numerous countries of world importance.

Sophomores go into aerodynamics, aircraft engine and structure study, navigation, meteorology, and applied air power.

Juniors in advanced work enter either Flight Operations or Administration Logistics. Flight Operations students are those who expect to enter pilot or air crew training after college graduation. They study courses which are taught in the ground school portion of the Air Force's aviation cadet program, Administration Logistics is work preparatory to a non-flying officer's job.

The unit is under the direction of Lieutenant Colonel William Flinn Gilland, Professor of Air Science and Tactics. It is expected that approximately sixty Second Lieutenants will be graduated each year. The Unit now numbers about 230.

A Note of Acknowledgment . . .

To the Alumni office, for the use of its facilities;

To the Registrar's office, without whose help in providing innumerable lists this yearbook could not have been complete;

To Jerry's Studios, and to the staffs of the Benson Printing Company and the Alabama Engraving Company, for their aid and advice;

And to all those students who provided snapshots and other information and advice.
